

OUR STORY

We are in the business of connecting people. - Mike Cameron, CEO

Christopherson Business Travel has been helping companies connect face to face with partners, clients, and opportunities around the world for more than 60 years.

Founded in 1953 by Merrill and Lucille Christopherson, the company is now owned by Mike and Camille Cameron who purchased it in 1990. At that time, Christopherson had two employees and booked $1 million in travel.

Today, we rank as the 12th largest travel management firm in the nation, and employ 433 travel professionals who support more than $600 million in annual travel bookings.

A certified, woman-owned corporation, Christopherson operates from five full-service locations as well as 35 client-dedicated on-site locations.

Through a team of consultative account managers, expert full-service advisors, and AirPortal®, the company's proprietary technology platform, Christopherson provides intelligent travel management for more than 1,000 clients across the country, including Fortune 500 companies, government organizations, universities, and private businesses.
